DXN's ANDRO-G is 100% Andrographis paniculata (Organic)

Think about having some "Andro G" on hand, just in case any strain of Flu comes to town. Many DXN members benefit from taking Andro G to help relieve flu, headaches, sinus problems and severe abdominal upsets like food poisoning.

Andrographis Paniculata is a traditional herb, recognised by herbalists for centuries as a natural remedy for upper respiratory infections, fever, sore throat, viruses, flu, malaria, diarrhoea, other intestinal disorders and even snakebites. This bitter herb generally has an affinity with the heart, liver and gall bladder and has a cooling effect on the body and can bring down a temperature.

It is used in 26 Ayurvedic formulas (Ayurvedic is the first known form of medicine originating from India). It also helps to reduce excessive body heat due to its cooling and soothing effects; this can assist the liver toxicity, such as alcohol and other toxic chemicals; kill off parasites and may reduce the development of ulcers, after taking on a regular basis.

The global flu epidemic of 1918 was one of the most devastating infectious outbreaks in world history - more virulent even than the Black Death in the 14th century - killing 50 million people worldwide. No country escaped its onslaught but in India, the herb, Andrographis paniculata, was credited with stopping the spread of the deadly virus.

Now, important new research has confirmed a host of pharmacological benefits for this herb, including potent anti-inflammatory, anti-bacterial and anti-viral effects. In addition, scientists have discovered that Andrographis paniculata helps boost the immune system, helps prevent blood clots and maintains efficient digestive functioning.

The main active constituent is Andrographolide. Research shows that the herb activates fibrinolysis, a natural process in the body in which blood clots are dissolved. It also relaxes the smooth muscle in the walls of blood vessels and has a blood pressure-lowering effect.

Andrographis extracts are showing promise in relieving diarrhoea associated with E.coli bacterial infections, so great to take with you overseas. In one study, Andrographis was given to 1,611 people with bacterial dysentery and 955 people with diarrhoea. The results showed an overall effectiveness of 91.3 per cent.

The herb's anti-viral activity has been demonstrated in HIV and AIDS. Andrographis prevents the virus from infecting healthy T-cells and inhibits the spread of infection, while other studies show that the herb is able to fight HIV in cells even after they have been infected. Scientists have found that Andrographis hinders HIV from taking over a 'control enzyme' in certain T-cells that triggers the multiplication of the virus. Did you know? In some countries where Malaria is common, the malaria parasites become resistant to prescription drugs. The ingredients of Andrographis paniculata (Andro G) are known to contain the active components for the antimalarial activity against the parasites that transmit this disease. (Research References available).

DXN Andro G is available in bottles of 30 capsules each 350mg of 100% Andrographispaniculata.

Message from New Star Diamond, Ms. Pamela Brasher

From Melbourne, Pam is a Senior Estate Representative, enjoying DXN part-time. Pam said, "I only joined DXN to enjoy the products at members prices. Ganoderma very quickly allowed me a good night's sleep. The surprise effect was the relief from my severe hay fever which practically immobilized me for 6 months of each year. When my workmates saw how well I was looking, they asked what I took. When I explained the DXN products and the beneficial effects I have experienced, several of them decided to take them, they joined up and now swear by them too. It's very nice to achieve Diamond level, but best of all is the feeling that I have helped a lot of friends and others, to achieve good health – and some of them were very ill indeed. I want to keep helping others in this very practical way; and DXN's self-employed-business model, gives me real options for my future. I love it!"
